Hutcheson Horticultural Company

Winter 2005

Vol. 1 Issue 1

Letter From President

It is with great pleasure to present to our customers and business partners our first quarterly newsletter. I'm excited to let everyone know what's happening at Hutcheson Horticultural as well as providing some useful information. I would also like to invite everyone to visit our updated web-site, Hutchhort.com. We researched web-sites across the country and I believe we have one of the most user friendly sites in our industry. You can find valuable information, such as our plant gallery as well as giving us feedback and ordering services online. We check our emails daily to ensure prompt service to all of our clients. Please visit and give us some feedback. I feel blessed to have so many great clients, friends, business partners, and absolutely the greatest employees. My family and I are very grateful and would like to wish everyone a Merry Christmas and a Happy and Safe Holiday Season!

Sincerely,
Mark Hutcheson

New Website Launched

Hot off the design table, the new www.HutchHort.com is packed full of useful tools and features for our customers. Not only will you be dazzled by our much improved branding and site layout, you can sign up for an online version of our quarterly newsletter, browse and search our database, learn valuable landscaping tips, request a free consultation directly from our experts and you can also see pictures of all different jobs that we have completed! So what are you waiting for, log on and check us out! We are just a click away from making your dream landscape a reality!

Emerson's Corner

This winter season you can find our maintenance division continuing to make your yard stay beautiful and healthy! You can find us making multiple visits, leaf removal, cutting back perennials and ornamental grasses, and applying the last chemical application of pre-emergent. In the next 6 weeks you can find us applying Round 1, a pre and post emergent and fertilizer.

Plants of the Season

Euonymus alatus, (aka.) Burning Bush, is a true show of color in the fall. This medium shrub displays brilliant red foliage.

Ilex x 'Nellie R. Stevens', (aka.) Nellie R. Stevens holly and many other holly varieties can be used for screening, or foundation plantings. The hollies in the winter are great! They can also be used for clippings in December for decoration with its red berries!

Camellia sasanqua and Camellia japonica display colorful blooms in the winter! They have glossy green foliage and are grown in different forms. White, pink, or red bloomers!

For the cost of a pizza, you can invest in plants that will grow and provide years of enjoyment for the whole family! Visit www.hutchhort.com!

It's Warm Outside Now

Last month, we were presented with a design request for the backyard of the Schulte residence in Cumming, GA. This intimate setting needing an outdoor living space for entertaining and relaxation. This project included an outdoor fireplace, stone paths, a stackstone seat wall, and pea gravel sitting area. The final outcome is exactly what our architect and customer had envisioned. The Schulte's are excited to use their new backyard!
